CHAPTER X.

INSPECTING THE PRISON—A CHANGE OF ORDERLIES.

WHILE the governor and Colonel Jurneff were planning the great surprise to be given the guests two stealthy figures left the palace. Jurneff's carriage was ready, and they stepped into it. "Prince Delnikoff was dressed in a plain uniform he had worn as lieutenant of cavalry. He wore over that a long black cloak that concealed every inch of his apparel. In his arms he carried his brilliant uniform of inspector general of prisons.

Alma laughed, called him a good rascal and patted his cheek. She let his arm rest about her waist as the carriage hurried to Jurneff's home. Arriving, she led the prince by a private way to Jurneff's apartments. A servant met them and was dismissed with the curt remark that Colonel Jurneff had sent them for something and they needed no attendance.

She left Delnikoff in the library and took the bundle from him. She hurried to her room. When she got there, she knelt and prayed. Marie found her on her knees and lifted her.

"Marie, hush for your life! Swear to me that you hold sacred what you will breathe a word of what you see tonight until tomorrow. Better yet, go; be nothing."

"Can you not trust me, mademoiselle?"

"I cannot trust myself. Go! You know nothing. I came home from the ill feeling ill."

The maid retired, and Alma dressed herself in the uniform of the inspector general of prisons. In a closet were a pair of boots she had purchased. The long cloak she had bought, as that worn by Delnikoff, covered her completely. With a pair of shears she cut beautiful tresses short. In her excitement she left them where they fell on the floor. She went to the library and threw aside the cloak.

"Alma," cried the prince, rushing to her. "you are superb! The uniform becomes you better than it does me, though it is a trifle large. Where did you get the boots?"

"They were left by a—by a soldier who knows Marie, my maid. Oh, I am nervous! I can scarcely bring myself to the lark now that I have won it to it. But we have gone so far, we must go on. We will have some wine for us."

She left the room and returned with a glass filled. Drink to the success of our expedition!"

He took the glass from her hands and asked her to touch her lips to his. She did so and gave him her kiss for the same salute.

For the success of the handsomest, highest, darest inspector of prisons the czar of Russia ever had!"

Now come, I know the way," she said. "The papers—the commission—I find them in the breast pocket."

You will not need them if you make better."

Amazed, half conscious of what he was doing, the prince followed. She led him down a staircase to a stone corridor. The captain of the prison guard came to meet them. The visitor of her cap was pulled down. She stiffened up and addressed the guard with dignity.

"I am Prince Delnikoff, inspector general of prisons. Here is the seal of the czar."

Alma laughed, called him a good rascal and patted his cheek. She let his arm rest about her waist as the carriage hurried to Jurneff's home. Arriving, she led the prince by a private way to Jurneff's apartments. A servant met them and was dismissed with the curt remark that Colonel Jurneff had sent them for something and they needed no attendance.

Now come, I know the way," she said. "The papers—the commission—I find them in the breast pocket."

You will not need them if you make better."

They passed in and she locked the door behind them. The first cell they came to she unlocked. A dirty looking wretch was lying on his pallet of straw.

"He will be cleaner in Siberia," said Alma as she locked his cell.

The next cell was empty, and she did not unlock the door. Each cell door in turn she opened and looked in. They had almost completed the round of the corridor when she heard the prince breathing heavily. She turned and found him leaning against the wall.

"I am ill!" he whispered. "My head is splitting."

"Come out in the air," she said. "I can't!"

His head drooped. With a strength born of the exigencies of the moment she thrust him into an empty cell and tore the long cloak from under him. Then she locked the door. Swiftly, breathlessly, with panting bosom and trembling hands, she opened door after door. In almost the last cell of the row was Harvey Irons asleep.

"Wake up! Wake up, M. Irons!" Alma whispered. He sat upright.

"Who are you?"

"Hush! Our lives depend upon your silence and obedience. I am Alma, now acting as the inspector general of prisons. Come with me!"

"Alma! Alma Jurneff!" he whispered as he looked at her in bewilderment.

"Yes. Come with me. I will help you to escape. They will kill you here. Come, now. Wear this cloak and do not speak."

Marveling, he staggered to his feet and donned the cloak.

"Follow me," she whispered. "Do not speak. Our lives depend upon your discretion."

Harvey obeyed her injunctions. She led him to the corridor.

"How did your excellency find things?" asked the captain of the guard timidly.

"In good condition, all but the atmosphere. It is so close it has made me orderly ill. We will step out into the cool air for a while, after which we will return and resume our inspection."

The bunch of keys was heavy, and as the guard took them from Alma's hand he did not notice that one had been abstracted. He hung the bunch in its accustomed place. A moment later the doors of this prison had closed behind Alma Jurneff and Harvey Irons.

To Inspect State Banks

Indianapolis, Sept. 28.—Governor Durbin, in welcoming the supervisors of state banks to their third annual national convention in Indianapolis, declared in favor of the state exercising supervision over the private banks in the state and subjecting them to examination. He also took the stand—set forth in a bill that he presented to the legislature two years ago—that all banks should be required to pay in cash and maintain in cash a capital stock on which to do business.

He Was an Easy Winner.

Buffalo, Sept. 28.—The entire roster of grand officers of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen was re-elected for two years at yesterday's session of the ninth biennial convention. Some opposition to the re-election of Grand Master Hannahan developed and Frank McManany of Grand Rapids was placed in the field against him. When it came to a vote, however, Mr. Hannahan carried the convention by a large majority.

Keeps Judge Parker Busy.

New York, Sept. 28.—Judge Parker yesterday met and conferred at length with Democratic politicians from half a dozen states, covering territory as far east as Connecticut and west to California. His visit to New York is the third of a series. He arrived at 9:30 a. m. from Esopus and will not return before Thursday noon at the earliest.

Blaney, who found and condemned twenty defective boilers in the establishments. As a result 2,000 men who were about to be put to work will remain idle until new boilers are installed or the old ones put in satisfactory condition. The inspector said the boilers were in a dangerous condition and had been in use since 1884.

Naples, Sept. 28.—The eruption of Mt. Vesuvius has greatly diminished. The authorities have relaxed the restrictions placed upon the public when the eruption was at its worst, and people are permitted to ascend the mountain. He Feared Insanity.

Berlin, Sept. 28.—D. K. Goss, professor of the American Institute at Strassburg, formerly superintendent of the Indianapolis city schools, shot and killed himself. Mr. Goss left a letter saying he feared he was becoming insane and for that reason had decided to commit suicide. The American Institute is closed.

SIGNS OF ACTION

Japs and Russians Seem to Be Again Lining Up For Battle.

A FORWARD MOVEMENT

On the Part of the Japanese Armies Portends an Early and General Engagement Near Mukden.

General Kuropatkin Is Fortifying a Strategic Position in Preparation For Contingencies.

Indications point to the imminence of a forward movement of the Japanese armies against the Russians at the pass, Simintin and Mukden.

General Kuropatkin is fortifying Fakoman, northeast of Mukden, in order that he may be prepared for the contingency of the evacuation of Simintin. Reports of the naval engagement with the southeastern extremity of Sakhalin are not verified; on the contrary, it is believed the Vladivostok squadron remains in the harbor.

There is no news from Port Arthur.

LITTLE FURTHER NEWS

The Curtain Again Rung Down on the Scene of War.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 28.—The war commission has received no further news from the front. A Mukden press telegram reporting that the Japanese had crossed the Hun river fifty miles above the city is believed to refer to scouting parties of Japanese whose presence there was recorded in the press dispatches of Sept. 26.

The movement of Japanese forces on the Liao river, which was reported in a dispatch from General Sakharoff to the general staff on Sept. 26, is all the more significant, since Shanchan is the starting point of roads leading to Tie pass, Mukden and Simintin.

The announcement that the Russians are fortifying Fakoman, twenty-five miles northeast of Mukden, shows that General Kuropatkin is preparing to check the flanking movement on Tie pass from the west in case Simintin should have to be evacuated.

The entire absence of news from Port Arthur, it is feared, indicates a closer blockade there. Hitherto dispatches from General Stoessel have been coming through semi-weekly.

The admiralty has not received any details of the reported sea fight off Aniva, at the southeastern extremity of Sakhalin. The Vladivostok squadron, it is understood, is still in the harbor. The cannonading at Aniva was probably a Japanese attack on blockade runners.

A telegram received here from Batoum reporting that reservists are being transported along the Caucasian coast, brings the first intimation that troops there are being mobilized. There are only two army corps in the Caucasus, and one of these has apparently been ordered to the front. Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky was received in audience yesterday by the emperor. The prince will assume charge of the ministry of the interior on Oct. 1. The emperor will leave for Odessa today. It is his intention to visit Tiraspol instead of Kishineff, as has been previously announced.

A MIXED FINDING

Somewhat Peculiar Conclusion Arrived at by Georgia Commission.

Albany, Ga., Sept. 28.—The trial of Chief of Police Westbrook on sensational charges first preferred by Dr. L. G. Broughton of Atlanta in a sermon here three months ago and following which the preacher was cowarded by the chief, was concluded late yesterday afternoon. Of the seven specific charges preferred the chief was found guilty of two, viz., drinking while on duty and in uniform, and visiting barrooms while on duty and loitering at such places.

The commission imposed a fine of $25 for each of these offenses and exonerated him on all other charges.

On the charge of assault on the minister the commissioners said: "We find Chief Westbrook guilty of this charge, but in our opinion the peculiar circumstances justified him as a man in pursuing the course he did."

Federation of Labor Officers.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 28.—The State Federation of Labor elected the following officers: President, E. A. Perkins, Indianapolis; first vice president, George D. Herrick, Muncie; second vice president, Miss Lily Fredericks, Indianapolis; third vice president, Wellington O'Connor, Staunton; fourth vice president, James W. Harty, Terre Haute; fifth vice president, Charles J. Steiss, Fort Wayne; secretary-treasurer, John W. Peters, South Bend.

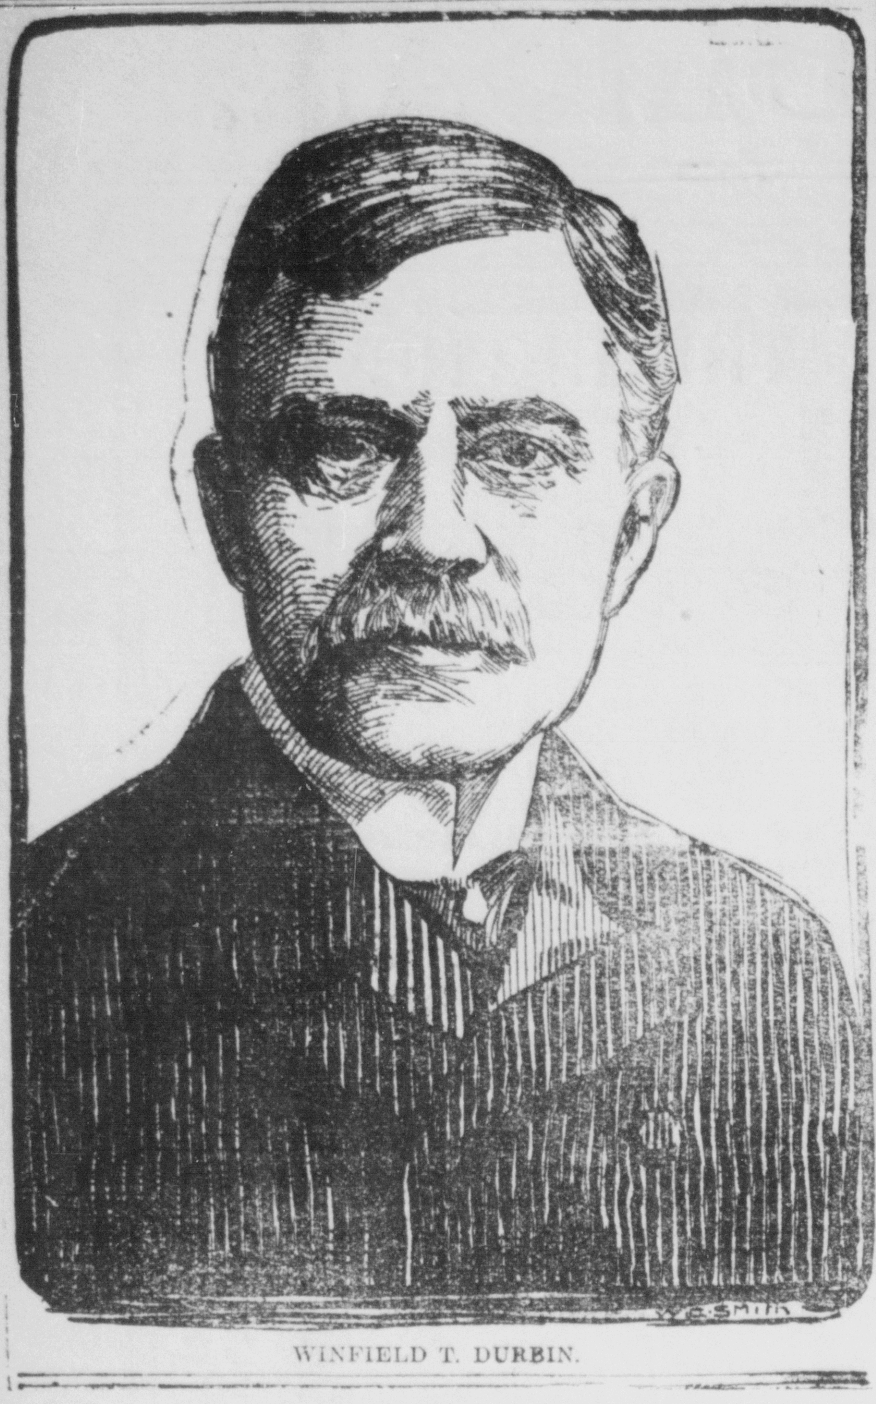

Threw Himself on Court's Mercy.

New London, Sept. 28.—Colonel James A. Brown, former treasurer of the People's Savings bank at Stonington, pleaded guilty to four counts of making false entries in the bank's books covering up an alleged shortage of $20,000. Brown threw himself on the mercy of the court. Sentence was deferred.

A NEW INDUSTRY

Syndicate to Help College Dunces Has Been Revealed.

New York, Sept. 28.—Isidor Finkle and Louis H. Lohar, students at Columbia University, have been arrested charged with taking regent's examinations as proxies for others. The complainant against the young men is Charles F. Wheelock, chief examiner of the examining bureau of the state department of education. Mr. Wheelock said: "There is a regular syndicate of bright young men who will pass an examination for anything for prices ranging from $20 to as high as $300. We have been trying hard to break it up, but have always heretofore let them go. This time we intend to push the case as far as we can and make an example of these two alleged offenders. This is the first arrest that has ever been made on this charge."

WINFIELD T. DURBIN.

Governor Durbin and Capt. W. E. English will speak in Seymour, Friday evening, Sept. 30, at 7:30. A cordial invitation is extended to the people throughout the county to hear these distinguished citizens of our state.

Heard Governor Durbin and Captain W. E. English at the opera house next Friday night.

Parker's speech of acceptance was not well received and his letter is still worse. He will have to run on that telegram that was dictated by the Wall Street trust crowd.

John Sharp Williams is ranting and losing sleep over the Filipino independence. Yet Williams lives in a district with a population of 190,885 where half the voters are disfranchised. Only 1,535 votes were cast for Williams the last time he was elected to congress. He overlooks conditions right at home.

A county commissioner who wastes $300 of the county's money in painting one bridge in his district, should not ask to be re-elected. Neither should the people think of voting for him again. Elect Robt. D. Hays and Chas. T. Benton and your money will not be wasted.

The farmers are not ready for a change back to democratic times such as prevailed under Grover Cleveland, who says Parker is a man after his own heart. No fair minded man is going to vote against his own welfare and that is what every man who votes to return to the democratic times such as prevailed from 1893 to 1897 will be doing.

Judge Parker says that if he is elected he will revoke the pension order of President Roosevelt that has benefited thousands of old soldiers. That is evidence that Parker has no love for the old soldier. What he and a democratic congress, three fourths of them from the south, would do for the old soldier would be a sight. No wonder the old soldiers are practically a unit for Roosevelt. He is their friend.

The Brownstown Banner seems to think that the county printing contract has been let on the square. The Banner man knows that a requisition for printing and stationery has never been made according to law in Jackson county. The different classes are always mixed up for the purpose of shutting out the home printers. They make the requisition on blanks supplied by Burford and these are arranged in his favor of course. The county officers know this but continue to make the requisition according to his plans and specifications, which are not in accordance with the law. Why should Jackson county pay more for books and stationery than any county bordering Jackson. In 1901 Jackson county paid $2851.46 for books, stationery and printing; Bartholomew paid $1,918.53; Lawrence county paid $1,898.93; Jennings paid $1,222.79; Washington paid $1,070.36. And what was true in 1901 is true yet for Burford has had the contract all the time. Why should the taxpayers pay nearly a thousand dollars more for this work than any of these other counties? It is time for a change.

Political Gossip.

Anderson Percifield, candidate for congress, and John L. Griffiths, opened the campaign for the republicans of Jennings county at North Vernon Tuesday night. Such a crowd was out that the opera house there would not hold all of them. Mr. Percifield was here this morning on his way home and said it was a great meeting.

The Hammond quartette that appeared with John W. Kern at Washington last evening went through here this morning.

Remember that Governor W. T. Durbin and Capt. W. E. English will open the campaign for the republicans in this city next Friday evening. Both have a host of admiring friends in Seymour and Jackson county who are glad of the opportunity to hear them speak. Come out and hear them discuss the issues of the campaign. Every body invited.

DIED.

SMITH.—Estle Roy Smith, aged 8 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Baine Smith, of Forest, Illinois, died Tuesday morning at his home in Illinois, of spinal meningitis. The remains were brought here, arriving Tuesday evening and were taken to the home of Fred Downs on Mill street. Wednesday morning the remains were taken to Mt. Zion, in Jennings county, for burial leaving Seymour about 9:30.

SCHILLER.—Miss Minnie D. Schiller, daughter of the late John Schiller, died at the family home in Redding township Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. She was 19 years 1 month and 16 days of age. Consumption was the cause of her death. Funeral Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the German Lutheran church. Burial at the Lutheran cemetery.

FIDDLERS ENTERTAIN CROWD.

And Carry Away a Cart Load of Prizes.

The Old Fiddlers Contest at the opera house Tuesday night drew a large crowd. The entertainment supplied was sufficient to keep the crowd in an uproar nearly all the time. The contest was given under the auspices of the Eagles and under the personal direction of Mr. Ellsworth. The receipts were such as to make it a financial success.

The chief fiddlers were Asa Pennock, sr., who is 81 years of age, A. C. Davis, R. W. Brooks and William Had-den and each one got so many prizes that he needed help to carry them home. They played about all the old tunes one could think of and they entertained the crowd, too.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Clark both carried away prizes for jig dancing. Mrs. Clark is 75 years old but very nimble on her feet yet.

The colored quartette was a feature that won applause and carried off some prizes.

Robert Edwards was also among those rewarded for fiddlin'.

Another laughable feature was the boys contest in which the test was to see which boy could get his shoes and stockings off and back on the quickest. All in all it was quite a successful and laughable entertainment.

How Many Girls and Young Women

Do you see every day of your life, with drawn face expression, squinting eyes, wrinkled brows, and distorted faces, all caused by the great effort made to see? How soon they grow prematurely old on account of the continued effort which is necessary to have in use every second of the day. Who would not cheerfully wear a pair of slightly properly fitted lenses and overcome these manifold troubles including the headaches that generally go with such cases? This is well worth your consideration. See yourself as others see you. Examinations free. Your money back for anything we do, if it is not right. Can you do as well elsewhere? Mr. and Mrs. Harsch.

Mr. Shea was one of the best known men in Scott county, and had lived at Lexington for more than forty years. He was born in Ireland more than eighty years ago and his death was due largely to his advanced years, although he was a victim of Bright's disease.

Mr. Collins Surprised.

On returning from his work at noon Monday, September 27, George Collins, of West Seventh street, was completely surprised when he opened the door and faced about thirty guests. Mrs. Collins had used the best of skill and energy in making preparations. The table was simply moaning under the sumptuous dinner she had prepared. Over the center of the table hung a most significant semi-circle composed of Bride and Bride-maid roses, pink carnations and ferns. The crescent was suspended from the ceiling with pink and white ribbons. In the center of the crescent were the figures 32, which was Mr. Collins' age. The table was also nicely decorated. Misses Ida Collins and Lillie Pruitt had charge in the dining room and Mrs. Lou Ackerman ruled in the juvenile dining room. Miss Elva Keith had prepared the following remarks which were read at the table by O. S. Melborn:

"It is certainly with great pleasure that we meet with our friend and neighbor on this the thirty-second anniversary of his birth. Mr. Collins is the oldest son of his parents and was born Sept. 27, 1872. That he has been a good son, those of us whose acquaintance with him is slight, may infer from our observation of his kind affectionate manner to his good wife and little children. There is no higher evidence of a father's kindness than to see the joy of his little ones on his return home. And the affection of his wife is shown today in this bountiful dinner she has spread in honor of his birthday and the pleasure she has taken in planning for this occasion. Let us then extend our congratulations to Mr. Collins and wish him many happy birthdays in coming years."

SCROFULA A DISEASE WE INHERIT.

Scrofula manifests itself in many ways. Swelling of the glands of the neck and throat, Catarrh, weak eyes, white swelling, offensive sores and abscesses, skin eruptions, loss of strength and weakness in muscles and joints. It is a miserable disease and traceable in almost every instance to some family blood taint. Scrofula is bred in the bone, is transmitted from parent to child, the seeds are planted in infancy and unless the blood is purged and purified and every atom of the taint removed Scrofula is sure to develop at some period in your life.

150 South 5th Street.

MRS. RUTH BERKLY, Salina, Kan.

Noremedy equals S. S. S. as a cure for Scrofula. It cleanses and builds up the blood, makes it rich and pure, and under the tonic effects of this great Blood Remedy, the general health improves, the digestive organs are strengthened, and there is a gradual but sure return to health. THE PERFECT WAY.

Scores of Seymour Citizens Have Learned It.

If you suffer from backache There is only one way to cure it. The perfect way is to cure the kidneys.

A bad back means sick kidneys. Neglect it, urinary troubles follow. Doan's Kidney Pills are made for kidneys only.

Are endorsed by Seymour people. James Pollard, of Cincinnati avenue railroad employe says: "For many years off and on I suffered from lameness across the loins and sharp twinges of pain in my back every time I made a sudden movement. I could lift nothing of any weight and there was lack of ambition to do anything. At times the pains left as though some one was plunging a badawl into me. Any little cold or exposure brought on an attack and caused me acute suffering. I had heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and procured them at C. W. Milhous' drug store. They proved just the remedy I needed and soon relieved me of the whole trouble. My kidneys have been regular and normal ever since, and I can sleep all night without being disturbed."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

PROPOSITION REJECTED

Uruguayan Revolutionists Disagree and Trouble is Not Over.

Buenos Ayres, Sept. 28.—Notwithstanding the general feeling of satisfaction in Uruguay over the conclusion of a treaty of peace between the government and the revolutionists, eight revolutionary leaders, including two members of the family of the late General Artigas Saravia, have announced that they decline to recognize the action of General Munoz, who claimed to act for the revolutionists, and that they will continue hostilities under the command of General Pampillon with a force estimated at 6,000 men. Public opinion inclines to the belief that the dissentient revolutionists will soon yield, although further fighting is rumored to be imminent.

HIS LAST FIGHT

Sullivan's Professional "Bad Man" at Last Comes to Grief.

Sullivan, Ind., Sept. 28.—In a fight in a saloon here Albert Isbell, Sullivan county's notorious "bad man," received bullet wounds which will probably cause his death. Lon Shaw, the man who did the shooting, surrendered himself at the county jail immediately afterward. The fight was the result of an old grudge.

Isbell had been in many fights, from many of which he has come uninjured. When he first came to Sullivan ten years ago he declared himself to be the champion "bad man" and he whipped every man who aspired to that honor. Frequently he has been shot and stabbed and several times his life has been despaired of, but each time his splendid constitution pulled him through. Last Sunday he broke the jaw of Dee Bucklaw, with whom he had a fight.

Saloonists Are Alert.

Indianapolis, Sept. 28.—An organization of retail liquor dealers of the state on lines not unlike those on which the Anti-Saloon League movement is built, is being effected in Indiana. Already the 2,300 dealers of three congressional districts—the Ninth, Eleventh and Thirteenth—have organized Retail Liquor Dealers' Protective Leagues covering those districts, and a call has been issued for a meeting of the 400 retail dealers of the Sixth congressional district for the purpose of organizing. The work of thoroughly organizing Indiana for defensive purposes has been taken up by the National Retail Liquor Dealers' Protective League.

War on Horse-thieves.

Logansport, Sept. 28.—The annual convention of the National Horse-Thief association, representing the states of Michigan, Ohio and Indiana, has been called to meet at Logansport November 3 and 4. The convention will be composed of 220 delegates. Plans will be discussed for more vigilant work, and co-operation with the officers of the states comprising the association for the breaking up of the bands of thieves which carry on systematic operation and for the more effectual prosecution of the offenders.

Better Sanitation Needed.

Indianapolis, Sept. 28.—In the August bulletin of the state board of health Dr. J. N. Hurty, secretary of the board, calls attention in striking language to the ravages of typhoid fever and makes a plea for the taking of steps to destroy sewage in a sanitary way, so that it can not spread this and other diseases.

Diphtheria Closes Schools.

Wabash, Ind., Sept. 28.—Lafontaine schools have closed on account of the appearance of diphtheria in town. Two or three cases have been discovered among the students, and much alarm is felt because of the exposures. There has been one death and another patient will die.

Child's Deadly Drink.

Dunkirk, Sept. 28.—Lucy, the two-year-old daughter of Garfield Stoner, drank fly poison that was placed on a table and died from the effects of the poison a few hours later.

In a Critical Condition.

London, Sept. 28.—It is learned on good authority that Lady Curzon has undergone a change for the worse and that her condition is critical.

When troubled with constipation try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets.

They are easy to take and produce no griping or other unpleasant effect. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

A GREAT FINISH

Close of Campaign Will Not Lack in Interest.

Indianapolis, Sept. 28.—The Republicans will have a great finish for their campaign locally. Chairman Harry B. Smith said today that Senator Fairbanks will probably make the final speech. It will be the occasion for a great closing rally of the Republicans. Speaker Cannon is coming the latter part of next month. Secretary Shaw, Secretary Taft and many others of prominence are to be here. Big preparations have been made for Senator Beveridge's meeting tonight. It is understood that he will reply to Judge Parker's letter of acceptance, and 'tis said that his speech will be a keynote for the president himself. Senator Beveridge will begin a tour of the state Friday. The convention of the National Association of Republican Clubs next week will be one of the big events of the campaign in this state.

An idea of what the Democratic national committee is doing for Indiana may be realized from a statement made today to your correspondent by Chairman M. A. Ryan of the speakers' bureau of the Democratic state committee, who said that he has more speakers now than he knows what to do with. He had just finished reading telegrams from the national committee stating that J. Hamilton Lewis of Washington will speak next week in Indiana and that David B. Hill's first dates would be Oct. 17, 18 and 19. Within the last three days the national committee has offered Indiana more speakers of prominence than were sent in either '96 or 1900, and word has been received that more speakers will be sent later. Chairman Ryan was pressed at the first of the campaign for enough speakers to fill all of the demands, but now he is sending out to the county chairmen asking them to make arrangements for meetings. It is a part of the plan to carry Indiana by sending as many of the big guns as possible. If they don't shake old "General Apathy" off the trail within the next forty days it will be strange. It is probable that Hill will open his campaign at Fort Wayne on the 17th, speaking here on the 18th and Evansville on the 19th. He will probably return to Indiana during the latter part of the campaign.

Senator Will Wood of Lafayette, law partner of J. Frank Hanly, called at the Republican state committee rooms today. He said that the Republican nominee for governor is in better physical condition than when he opened his campaign and that his voice seems to be in fine condition in spite of the strenuous task he has undertaken. Mr. Hanly has been speaking day and night almost since the hour of his nomination. Probably no other candidate for governor of Indiana ever put in a more active campaign on the stump, but Mr. Hanly has in his favor a strong constitution begotten in his youth, when he toiled early and late at hard labor. During his professional career he has been a man of fine habits, so he is physically able to withstand a bracing campaign. He will make his closing speech at Lafayette the night of November 5.

While there is life there is hope.

I was afflicted with catarrh; could neither taste nor smell and could hear but little. Ely's Cream Balm cured it.—Marcus G. Shantz, Rahway, N. J. Cream Balm reached me safely and the effect is surprising. My son says the first application gave decided relief. Respectfully, Mrs. Franklin Freeman, Dover, N. H.
